MonkeyFodder is the only program that has the ability to scramble the names of programs and files. It hides all of your Microsoft Office files and forces you to manually un-hide them, just like a real monkey! It hides all of the main system folders (including the C: drive) and even places a fake C: drive on your desktop. A real advantage is that MonkeyFodder is the only program that can scramble any files on your hard drive, it can scramble ALL files, even HIDDEN files. To give you an idea of what MonkeyFodder is capable of, here are some examples. First, it is a totally fresh install. Windows XP. Then, MonkeyFodder scrambles the name of the Windows folder in a so called 'keep in case of disaster' scenario. Click on the 'Keep' button to see the new folder in the Explorer. You'll notice that it doesn't even have a similar name as the C: drive. Next, you can scramble the name of any file in the entire C: drive, even hidden ones! * Scramble file names directly on the desktop. * Scramble file names in the system registry. * Scramble file names in hidden folders 09e8f5149f

ZeroTracks uses decryption technology developed by ATI Security to hide the truth from Windows! ZeroTracks will hide any files or registry keys that you don't want it to find, making it possible to keep multiple copies of the same files on your PC without worrying about getting caught. We've also included the ability to WIPE all the Index.dat files on your PC. These files are locked while Windows is running, but ZeroTracks writes to your hard drive platters directly, by-passing Windows! So you don't even need to download and install our free generic "one click" tool, because you can put the PDF files on your external hard drive (or any other place you want) and just double-click them to activate the programs. Hidden System File Finder We've included the ability to Find Hidden System Files. This free utility scans your entire computer for these files, and we've included a "Clean" function that deletes them all. We've also included a scan of any partitions that you've attached or assigned to your computer. File Bytes Don't leave yourself open to snooping. With FileBytes you can erase the bytes from any portion of a file. With the built-in file viewer you can view the bytes of any file. This utility works on any FAT or NTFS volume. This feature also works with "unreadable" files. See FileBytes Index.dat File Wipe If you want to completely remove the Index.dat file, then you'll want this feature. When Vista and Windows 7 were released Index.dat files were not viewable, and when you tried to view them, you got an error message saying "Please ensure the Index.dat file is not damaged before viewing." Registry Wipe If you want to remove all the Registry Keys that contain sensitive data, then you'll need this feature. When you set a key to be deleted, its contents and history are saved, however you can then remove all this information at a later time. Disk Space Wipe Want to wipe out all the Disk Space on your computer? This is a great feature to wipe out temp files, as well as old files you don't want to keep. This also works for any partition on your computer. UserAssist Feature We've added a UserAssist function so that when a User removes a registry entry, it actually needs to be removed
