Class 31 Loco Add-on is an add-on livery pack for Brythonic Railway: Beyond The Western Frontier, a BR IV Railway game. It is designed to work along side the BR Class 31 Loco Add-on, making the BR 31 a premium livery choice. BR is well known for its 1960s introduction of the Class 31, a powerful 20cwt 2-8-2 Swann-saucer, but they were sidelined once dieselisation set in. Now in the 21st century we are lucky to get a glimpse of this livery. Left-click to switch to the nearest vehicle with the trailer attached, right-click to enable a move action. On locomotives: Use the disc icon in the top left-hand corner to view the events history of this locomotive. Hold [Shift] + Right-click to view inspection reports for your vehicles. NOTE When using the right mouse button to inspect your vehicle, it may display a yellow '!' icon. If you find your vehicle has become stuck, try clicking on the steam or water barrel icon to get more water! Manipulating a vehicle with the mouse wheel: Hold [Ctrl] to enable mouse wheel scrolling about This Add-On: The BR Class 31 Loco Add-on features two loco types: (1) British Railways' 'Pilot Scheme' to replace steam traction saw 20 Type 2 diesel locomotives built by Brush Traction in 1957. These development locomotives were fitted with Mirlees engines and had a top speed of 80mph, designed for mixed traffic workings on the Eastern Region. Midway through production, BR decided to extend the fleet, ordering a further 243 locomotives that entered service by the end of 1962. The main production locomotives were adapted slightly from their predecessors and underwent a programme of re-engineering in 1964 to replace the unreliable Mirlees engines with higher rated, more powerful English Electric engines. The Class also made its way into other regions of the railway network, becoming a popular sight on both the Western and London Midland regions. The add-on features the Class 31 in its golden Ochre livery, as well as a number of adjustments made to this livery, including: Ochre coloured wagon Ochre coloured side-cab Ochre coloured cab Ochre coloured linside equipment Ochre coloured pulpit

Effects of mesenchymal stem cells from spleen on cardiomyocytes in coronary artery disease rats]. To investigate the effect of mesenchymal stem cells (MSCs) from spleen on cardiomyocytes in coronary artery disease (CAD) rats. The rats were randomly divided into 4 groups: the normal control group (NC), the model group (C), the treatment group (C+T) and the positive control group (PC). The bone marrow MSCs were obtained from rats in the NC group, and were cultured in vitro. The MSCs at passage 3 were injected into the left ventricle of the CAD rats via the jugular vein, 1×10^6 cells per rat. The cells were injected in the C and C+T group once every 7 days, while they were injected once per day in the PC group. The cells were injected 5 days before the surgery in the C+T group. All the rats survived to the end of the experiment. The left ventricular function was evaluated by echocardiography, hemodynamic and coronary angiography. The collagen and calcium level was detected in the rat heart and coronary artery. The apoptotic cardiomyocytes in the myocardium were detected by immunohistochemistry.
