Explore a vast universe, meeting and befriend other players to form a group, and then work together to fight back against the boss aliens. As you progress through the game, you'll slowly meet other factions that will have their own agendas, people, territories and storylines, but there will be a strong connection between all of the factions as well. Players will start by simply mining asteroids to survive -- but they can use that to advance throughout the game and eventually unlock some of the most advanced technology available. Each new discovery/upgrade allows you to better fight off the boss aliens on a grander scale. If you're not up for the fighting (or even if you are), you can also join one of the factions and they can offer you their own story-line if you're up for it. Just make sure to keep your eyes open, as anyone can offer their services for you to be paid! In addition to that, you can engage in real-time combat with hundreds of other players. You don't just engage each other -- you can also trade resources and support each other in your fight against the boss aliens! VoidExpanse Activation Code is meant to be played as a co-op game, and we encourage players to cooperate and work together to beat the game. Having a friend with you could make all the difference.
