Players can compete with other players using the "Hide Master System". Players will be matched with other players in a one-on-one battle, and the winner will automatically become the player's master.

The hidden master system enables other aspects of gameplay via a master's skillful skills. You can use data obtained from your opponents when they are hidden to determine the extent of the damage dealt by their attacks. The game is a game where you choose the adventure of the role-playing game of 3D fantasy, which will be a first-person shooter with turn-based strategy elements, and combine these two using magic. The goal of the game is to unite the various guilds that are scattered throughout the Lands Between, as well as the people of Elynthia, the soul of magic. Battle system Turn-Based Strategy Defense battles will be represented in the form of a turn-based battle. The player selects the order in which their units will move, and then the battle will be executed. It is difficult to smoothly switch to tactics and attack, but at the same time, it is possible to select various tactics and surprise the enemy. The game will be easy to learn, and easy to master, but will include multiple different kinds of battles from the history of the Elden Ring and the Lands Between. Forward Smash Forward Smash is an attack for the purpose of thwarting the enemy without giving too much thought to the enemy's strategy. Used generally when there are too many troops in close proximity and you need to attack the enemy at once, or because the enemy is weak and close to death and you want to finish them off quickly. Both Smashes can be used by pressing the [Up] or [A] buttons, but their effects can be used at the same time, for example, using both during an attack to raise the Damage or Critical Hit Rate of an attack. Down Smash Down Smash is an attack that is fired when charging up a character's attack, such as when using them during an attack. Down Smash has an effect that reduces the target's defense, such as the effect that Moonlight's Down Smash has on monsters. By pressing the [A] button or when a certain amount of time has passed, you can use this attack repeatedly. Mid-Air Smash Mid-Air Smash is a special attack that is fired when an enemy leaves a certain range. It has an effect that makes a character's attack gauge or attack power continue to build (like Sunshine's [AE], Night Wind's [AE], and Jade's [AE]), or boosts the Damage or Critical Hit Rate of an attack. By pressing the [B] button, you can use this attack repeatedly. Perform Attacks Perform Attacks is the core of battle, and can be used either on your own or with allies

They have been in use in a variety of applications, such as respirators, dust masks, facewashes, hand and face washes, and respirators for medical use. As used herein, the term "respirator" is meant to include respirators, dust masks, dust respirators, facewashes, hand and face washes, and respirators for medical use. In the past, masks were made of a relatively soft absorbent material. They were formed to fit a user's face and would be placed over the nose and mouth to catch and retain dust and other particulate matter. As used herein, the term "particulate matter" includes particles of dust, smoke, mold, mildew, bacteria, and other pollutants. In addition to preventing particulate matter from entering the lungs, masks are desirable because they will help to alleviate allergy attacks, infection, colds, sinus problems and fatigue. Many people use masks while working on the farm or in factories that manufacture substances that cause allergic reactions. Masks should also be comfortable to wear and should fit the face closely to prevent undesirable effects such as snagging, chafing and discomfort. The prior art includes a great variety of mask designs. One type of mask is formed of a relatively thick cloth that is heat sealed. When the heat seals are pressed together, they become tighter and more durable, and the mask becomes more comfortable to wear. The cloth material is stiff, and the material does not conform to the face as closely as desired. A loose fitting mask is uncomfortable and does not comfortably fit the wearer. Thus, it was difficult to form the mask
