ACM-PIMC 2019 seeks submitted papers for short papers, keynote presentations, invited talks, tutorials, posters, consortia and workshops. New submissions are welcome. ACM-PIMC 2019 is a pioneering interdisciplinary conference organized by the ACM Special Interest Group on Pervasive and Mobile Computing (ACM SIG PIMC), the ACM Chapters in Asia-Pacific, the ACM Group on Pervasive Mobile Communication, and supported by the ACM. The conference welcomes research in the broad areas of mobile computing, pervasive computing, pervasive and mobile computing, and formal methods in computing and software development. Papers should be concise and discuss the following areas: (1) Mobile computing, including a wide range of topics, such as device characteristics, contents, service delivery, and content management; (2) Pervasive computing, including hardware, software, communication networks, infrastructures, and human-computer interaction; (3) Pervasive and mobile computing, including applications of mobile computing, including the next generation of mobile and related computing, and social computing; (4) Formal methods in computing and software development. Autologous Stem Cell Transplantation for Kaposi Sarcoma: Outcomes in the Euro-Kaposi Sarcoma Consortium Registry. The aim of this study was to compare outcomes of autologous stem cell transplant (ASCT) with best supportive care (BSC) in patients with advanced Kaposi sarcoma (KS) in a multi-center prospective registry. Data for patients transplanted in the Euro-Kaposi Sarcoma Consortium were collected. Two hundred and sixty-eight patients were included with a median age of 55 years. Median KS duration prior to ASCT was 13 months. The median disease free
