The general rule seems to be that you like the person you want to have a relationship with and that person likes you back, but do I really have to like that person? If I don't find that person attractive, can I still have a relationship with him/her? And if I know that I will never like that person, should I consider having a relationship with him/her? A:

6.0.0-ETA-GIT-r2r.No Bake S'mores Cookies! Cookies are not just for kids on holidays anymore, because today it's a summer specialty. You probably already know the story about their existence. They are cookies shaped as the ancient fire-following man. Back in the days they were a great way of finding people lost at the woods but nowadays, we are using cookies as an incentive for people to take a break from the summer heat and long days. The reason why they are called s'more cookies is clear. They are basically two cookies (a sandwich cookie and a classic chocolate chip cookie) with marshmallow. The two cookies are futher baked, but in the middle of them some pieces of marshmallow are put to bake them. When they are hot, the marshmallow melts, causing the two cookies and the marshmallow to fuse together. The result is a delicious treat. Not that I am sick of chocolate, but this is a perfect opportunity to use some other kind of cookies. Chocolate chip cookies are delicious but they do not melt in the middle. A few years ago I saw on a website a recipe that combined several chocolate flavors in the same recipe. This time, I decided to try that recipe. Cookies rolled in chocolate, covered in white chocolate and dipped in chocolate or served with mini chocolate chips are pretty tasty. I tried the chocolate chip kind, and I must confess that they are delicious. 1 cup softened butter 2 cups plus 1 tablespoon powdered sugar 2 tsp cinnamon 1 egg 1 tsp vanilla 1/2 tsp salt 2 cups plus 2 tablespoons all purpose flour 1/4 cup cocoa powder 8 tablespoons mini chocolate chips White Chocolate Frosting 1/2 cup butter softened 4 cups powdered sugar 1/2 cup white chocolate chips 6d1f23a050
