"and" the story continues: after that death, her husband must go on a journey to find this woman, who is no longer alive. what he finds is that her husband in the future is the direct opposite of him in the past: a loveless, sinister, and/or abusive husband, who takes advantage of the wife in the present. a trip down memory lane where we have to decide what we would have done differently if we could go back in time. it's not that the husband does anything really wrong, he's just a man; the one we failed to protect against. the year is 2002, america is on the verge of a financial crisis and the world is about to fall apart. exactly how we know this is because a few employees are allowed to witness the event. one guy gets shot right in the face and dies. another guy steals the bullet and keeps it. a third one reads the outlook e-mails, and notes a few things. one of which is a rumor that a plane may be shot down over washington. there is a fourth one, who dies in a car crash, but we don't actually see the crash. the three remaining witnesses don't remember the time or date of death. they just remember, the sight of the plane getting shot down. 5ec8ef588b
